LA Phil Affiliates

A Farewell Note FROM THE PRESIDENT

As I come to the close of my term as President of COPW at the end of this fiscal year on May 31st, it is both a moment of reflection and of heartfelt gratitude.

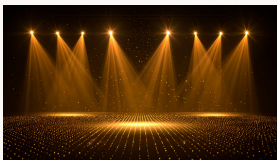

It has been a true privilege to serve the members of COPW in support of the Los Angeles Philharmonic. What has made this journey especially meaningful is the extraordinary spirit of our community, the men and women of our membership, along with our fellow Affiliate Committees and the dedicated LA Phil staff, working together so seamlessly, like an extended family. Each of you brings your unique talents and generosity, united by a shared love of music and the arts.

Together, we have celebrated not only the beauty of great performances, but also the passion and vision of our beloved Music Director and Conductor, whose commitment continues to inspire our city and enrich its cultural life.

I am delighted to welcome Maria Moore as the incoming President of COPW. I have every confidence that under her leadership, COPW will continue to thrive and grow. I look forward to supporting Maria and the Board in my continuing roles as Ex-Officio President and Chair of the Nominating Committee, whenever I am not traveling!

Ratna Jones,
COPW President

RECENT COPW MUSICAL GATHERINGS

Over the past months, COPW members have enjoyed a wonderful series of musical gatherings, while also welcoming nine new members who bring fresh energy and a shared love of music and service.

On Saturday, January 31, 2026, members gathered at St. Bede's Episcopal Church for the Annual Meeting, followed by a beautiful Baroque organ concert performed by Frank Basile. The program also included 100+ Years of Stars, Under the Stars, an engaging presentation highlighting the rich history of the Hollywood Bowl and its lasting impact on Los Angeles' cultural life, presented by our own Alison Maggart and Vito Shrivastava. The afternoon concluded with a lovely Mediterranean lunch, graciously hosted by Annette Colfax and Rea Crane, offering members time to relax, connect, and enjoy one another's company.

On March 14, 2026, COPW welcomed prospective members and guests to a delightful afternoon at the historic home of Barbara Jones, graciously hosted by Rea Crane and Daphne Moote. The gathering featured a special performance by violinist Dana Lawson of the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

The program included works by Johannes Brahms and Johann Sebastian Bach, including Brahms' Intermezzo for Piano, beautifully showcasing the rich, expressive sound of the viola. Performed in an intimate setting, the music created a warm experience, allowing guests to connect more closely with the artistry. Following the performance, guests enjoyed a lovely selection of savory and sweet refreshments provided by the Board. Rea Crane then shared highlights of COPW's history, and Barbara Jones spoke about the history of her home, adding a meaningful and personal dimension to the afternoon.

On February 1, 2026, several COPW members attended the All Affiliates Gala, Boutique and Silent Auction at the Jonathan Club.

This festive and well-attended event brought together LA Phil Affiliates in support of the organization's programs and community initiatives. Members shared a table with participants from the LA Phil Affiliates Speakers Bureau and enjoyed connecting with fellow supporters of music and music education.

All Affiliates Gala Chair Vikki Sung extended a heartfelt thank you to all those involved in the execution and sponsorship of this successful event. She reported net revenue of $141,750, including $50,000 raised through a paddle raise benefiting YOLA. The remaining $91,705 will support the Los Angeles Philharmonic and its programs.

Members had the pleasure of meeting and taking a photo with violinist Ray Chen.

PASADENA SHOWCASE 2026

This year, the Pasadena Showcase House of Design will be held from April 19 to May 17, 2026. Once again COPW will be one of the many organizations providing volunteers for this very worthy cause.

The Pasadena Showcase House for the Arts is an all-volunteer organization, which began as the Pasadena Junior Philharmonic Committee in 1948, dedicated to supporting music education and the Los Angeles Philharmonic. As the name changed, the focus on youth music education endured and expanded to support more than 200 music and arts programs throughout Southern California.

Pasadena Showcase House for the Arts has established itself as one of the largest local funders for music and the arts, from the proceeds of the Pasadena Showcase House of Design. COPW will be paid $50 for every shift worked by our volunteers. These funds go to support COPW's efforts to bring classical music to disadvantaged children. This volunteer opportunity is organized independently of the LA Phil.

If you are unable to volunteer, please consider making a donation of $50, or any amount, as these contributions are used for purchasing tickets for the LA Phil Concerts for Youth.

Donations can be sent via Zelle to laphilcopw@gmail.com or a check can be mailed to: Inez Lopez, COPW's Treasurer, at: 939 Ridgecrest St., Monterey Park, CA 91754. Please note on the check that the funds are for PSH donation.

SHARING THE GIFT OF MUSIC WITH OUR COMMUNITY

COPW has been fortunate to have the opportunity to help children and their families enjoy the wonderful world of classical music for many years by donating symphony tickets to organizations that serve underserved communities.

Below is a description of the agencies that have been recipients of concert tickets for the 2025 to 2026 Symphony for Youth concerts. COPW purchased 180 tickets for this season.

HillsidesCare provides comprehensive mental health treatment for children and adolescents. They are located in Pasadena.

Hathaway Sycamores, now Sycamores, serves children, youth, and families in Southern California by offering behavioral health services, housing support, family resources, and foster care and adoption services. They are located in the Highland Park area of Los Angeles.

1736 Family Crisis Center offers lifesaving support for victims of domestic violence, human trafficking, homelessness, and poverty in the Los Angeles area. House of Ruth provides empowering transitional housing and supportive services for homeless battered women and children in the Los Angeles area.

Upward Bound House provides housing, supportive services, and advocacy, helping families with children access basic resources and transition into permanent housing.

Hope Street Margolis Family Center partners with California Hospital Medical Center and serves as an access point for educational, early childhood, social, and health care services for low income working families in downtown and South Los Angeles.

International Institute of Los Angeles provides refugees, immigrants, and low income individuals with skills and resources to become self sufficient.

Two of the above agencies have changed their programs and will no longer be working with children ages 5 to 11, the target audience for the Symphony for Youth concerts.

Suggestions for agencies or organizations that might benefit from tickets for the 2026 to 2027 season are welcome.

Thank You, Mary Hellen

Introducing Our NEWEST MEMBERS

Meet Laura Jane Kessner

Laura Jane
Kessner: Attorney and Lover of the Arts

Laura Jane Kessner is an attorney with a deep love for the arts, including reading, ballet, opera, and documentary films. Her favorite place to enjoy the Los Angeles Philharmonic is at the Hollywood Bowl with a picnic basket, and she especially enjoys Baroque music.

Originally from Owensboro, Kentucky, Laura Jane came to Los Angeles for law school in 1990 and has called it home ever since. She is active in the community, serving on the boards of the Culver City Education Foundation and United Friends of the Children, and is a member of St. Bede's Episcopal Church.

In her free time, Laura Jane enjoys spending time with her husband and two cats while taking in as many arts experiences as possible.

Meet Gail Rolf

Gail Rolf: Lifelong Arts Supporter and Community Advocate

We are pleased to welcome Gail Rolf to COPW. Her lifelong appreciation for the arts and deep commitment to community make her a wonderful addition to COPW.

Originally from Cleveland Heights, Ohio, she moved to Los Angeles with her family in 1954. From an early age, her parents introduced her and her sister to classical concerts, theater, and jazz, instilling a lasting love of the arts through shared experiences. As an adult, she became a regular concertgoer and later a subscriber to the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

Today, she is a Legacy Donor and Clark Society member and values opportunities such as invitational rehearsals, special events, and supporting programs like YOLA. A retired teacher, she finds particular meaning in helping bring music to young people.

In addition to her involvement with COPW, she has a long history of service in the LGBTQ+ community. Alongside her late partner, she helped lead Friends of Project 10, Inc. for over 30 years, supporting LGBTQ+ youth through programs such as the nation's first LGBTQ+ Youth Prom, the Models of Excellence Scholarship program, and the Models of Pride conference. She remains active with Lambda Legal and continues to support organizations that advocate for equality.

In her free time, she enjoys traveling and has visited all seven continents. She also stays active walking her dog, playing pickleball, and attending concerts and plays. More recently, she has created a unique way of bringing people together by hosting monthly international dinner parties in her home, now connecting over 100 people through food and conversation.

Enjoy this peek at COPW members volunteering with Symphony for Youth and Schools.

It is always a joyful and rewarding experience, from welcoming students to helping everything run smoothly. Volunteers share in the excitement as young audiences experience live music, often for the very first time, and when space allows, volunteers often have the opportunity to attend the concert.” The energy, enthusiasm, and smiles of the students make it a truly special way to support the LA Phil’s mission.
